

Sequence 10 - IP and Copyright (24S1)

Copyright Exceptions

This is a copyright, public domain and creative commons activity. The score from this activity does not form a part of the final scores for this module. This activity is just a knowledge check of what you have learned so far.

Good luck!

1

Copyright status is only granted to well-known authors and filmmakers.

Answer:

- True
- False

2

The sole purpose of copyright is to make authors money and protect them from getting their works stolen.

Answer:

- True
- False

3

The Motion Picture Association of America has anti-piracy sniffing dogs.

Answer:

- True
- False

4

Amy tells Daniel about her summer vacation, and he says he'd love to see her pictures. Amy uses a peer-to-peer (P2P) file-sharing program to upload the photographs she took at camp so he can download them. That's copyright infringement.

Answer:

- True
- False

5

Amy tells Daniel that the photos are available on the P2P site. Daniel uses the same peer-to-peer file-sharing program to download Amy's camp pictures. That's copyright infringement.

Answer:

- True
- False

6

Sam buys a new band's CD but decides he doesn't like the singer, so he resells the CD on eBay. That's legal.

Answer:

- True
- False

7

Judy copies the last chapter from the final Harry Potter book to her commercial blog without any additional commentary. Since she copied one chapter only of the work for private purposes, Judy would be protected by fair use.

Answer:

- True
- False

8

Kathy downloaded a few photos of local organic farms from Flickr.com's Creative Commons (CC) pool. She follows the rules of the photographer's specific CC license which was "BY-SA" (attribution, share alike) and uses them in her digital video about sustainable agriculture. That's OK.

Answer:

- True
- False

9

Dwight finds a peer-to-peer (P2P) network that offers free music downloads. He owns all but one of his favorite band's CDs, and he finds that particular CD on the P2P network. He downloads the songs. He's not committing copyright infringement.

Answer:

- True
- False

10

Paula read an interesting article about the making of the film Titanic and wants to use a quote in her cinema review paper for journalism class. That's copyright infringement.

Answer:

- True
- False

11

The Public Domain is a polar research station in Antarctica.

Answer:

- True
- False

12

Amin recorded a video for his YouTube channel about the upcoming US Senate elections and included an official photo taken by a government employee and four bills authored by the incumbent that Adam found on the Senate's website. That's copyright infringement.

Answer:

- True
- False

13

Ramesh downloaded the black-and-white horror classic Night of the Living Dead (released 1968) from the Internet Archive and decided to mix an audio sample from the film into one of his original songs. That's copyright infringement.

Answer:

- True
- False

14

Since Xiaopeng forgot to register his screenplay before he sent it out to agents for review, he's no longer eligible to copyright it.

Answer:

- True
- False

Final Activity: Graded Quiz

You have reached the last compulsory activity for this session.

On the next page is a quiz, comprising ten multiple choice questions related to what we have covered in this sequence.

There is only one correct response to each question. You can attempt the quiz up to 3 times. Your score from your last attempt of the quiz will count towards your overall grade for this course.

3

Patents are:

Choose one of the following answers.

- The creator's right to make copies and other uses of a creative product.
- The right of an inventor regarding the manufacture or production of a product or service.
- Information that is unique to a company, and that is a key aspect of the competitiveness of that company.

5

Germany's education minister was accused of:

Choose one of the following answers.

- Copyright violations
- Cheating in her university dissertation
- Infringing patents
- Using trademarks without permission

7

In the March 2013 case at NTU as reported in The Nanyang Chronicle, the problem was:

Choose one of the following answers.

- The quiz questions were circulated via WhatsApp
- The school had to offer alternative assessments
- Some students felt the alternative assessments were unfair
- Students had access to the copied test
- Some dishonest students had committed collusion
- All of the options listed here are correct

17

The "5 P's of Copyright" are:

Choose one of the following answers.

- Permission, Palimony, Pender, Proportion, Place
- Permission, Purpose, Profit, Proportion, Place
- Permission, Pandering, Pender, Parcenary, Place

23

While studying at a non-profit university, we are allowed to copy any two articles from a periodical.

Choose one of the following answers.

- True
- False

25

DRM stands for "Digital Rights Microsoft".

Choose one of the following answers.

- True
- False

29

For university assignments (i.e. for educational purposes), the conditions for legally copying images from the Web are:

Choose one of the following answers

- We can copy as much as we need, as long as we attribute the source
- We do not need to attribute the source since this is for academic purposes
- We must attribute the source, and we cannot copy more than 10% of the images on the site

31

E-book makers are infringing copyright by publishing books by Tolstoy who died in 1910.

Choose one of the following answers.

- True
- False

37

We can freely copy anything from US government Websites, as the materials have been released into the public domain.

Choose one of the following answers.

• True

• False

43

Copyright law is a balance between the needs of the copyright owner and the needs of the general public.

Choose one of the following answers.

• True

• False